Dr. Frank Crane Discusses Race Adjustment from Unbiased Standpoint.

(A. N. P. Service.)

This old world is made up of individuals of many different types. Of these types, there are many motives actuating them in the things they say and do. There are those in public life who say or write things for effect—the effect of temporary advantage or personal whim. On the other hand, there are equally as many, if not more, who are in a position to say or do things that will help the good old cause of humanity to rise a little higher in the plane of existence, but, for reasons best known to themselves, they fail to deliver.

It is quite true that very few public speakers or writers express righteous convictions without first considering the effect such expressions will have on their pocket books or personal popularity. It is easy enough to talk about the popular things, but it requires real courage to say the things that are known to be right, and discuss the subjects that are known to be important, if it is known that a more or less unpopular chord might be struck. There are two notable subjects that have had full play with the whims of popularity.

The subject of Race Adjustment has always been a live wire and has been skipped over, skimmed over and ducked by many able people. For a long time, the most ordinary individual could get front page, space by saying ugly things. But that day is passed, thank goodness. Now, we are finding big men with big minds and large influence, who dare to speak the truth because it is truth, and time, truth. Not the least of these, by any means, is Dr. Frank Crane, a writer with international reputation.

Dr. Crane's short essays on popular life subjects reach more than 10,000,000 people daily through the syndicated newspaper service. His opinions stick in the mind. He has unflinchingly told some wonderful truths on American Race Adjustment. He has been a great and unselfish helper of the cause, and it is to be hoped that every person of our entire group may learn to know him as a friend of justice—and particularly is this hoped for the youth.

REINSTATEMENT OF WAR
RISK INSURANCE WITHIN
Eighteen Months Still Holds
Good.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—To relieve any confusion that may exist in the minds of former service men on account of the special provision of lapsed War Term Insurance which authorized reinstatement up to December 31, 1919, regardless of date of discharge, announcement is made by Director R. G. Cholmeley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance that the provisions for reinstatement of lapsed or canceled insurance, within 18 months from date of discharge, upon payment of only two months' premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated, provided the insured is in as good health as at the date of discharge or expiration of the grace period whichever is the later date, and se-states in his application, still hold good.

The provision that discharged service men are permitted to reinstate at any time within three calendar months following the month of discharge by merely paying the two months' premiums, without making a formal application or a statement as to health is also still in force.

The provisions for reinstatement do not protect a man until he ac-may not be in as good health as he was at the time of discharge and consequently may not be able to secure reinstatement.

Don't put off reinstatement. Do it now!

STURDY BODIES FOR WORK.
ING CHILDREN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The imperative need of physical tests for children about to enter employment and of continuous supervision over the health of children at work has received national recognition in the organization by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor of a permanent committee to determine physical standards for working children.

Little has been done up to the present time in the United States to prevent children from going into work for which they are physically unfit, and practically no study has been made of the effects of early labor on the growth of the body.
Yet the children who begin work between the ages of 14 and 18, and in many instances as early as 12 or even younger, are the children of least resistance in the community.
They are in general the children of the poor, and in consequence, are likely to be the ill-nourished, the the undersized, the anemic, already handicapped, their growing bodies can put up no resistance to the exacting demands of industry on muscle and nerve. During these maturing years they are peculiarly liable to injury from overstrain and peculiarly sensitive to all sorts of industrial hazards.

A great deal of the work done by children is, moreover, totally unfit for them. It often involves too much sitting, or too much standing, the carrying of weights beyond the child's strength, the overexerting of one set of muscles at the expense of another, and, in certain occupations, have shown that the sickness rate among juvenile laborers is alarming, especially during the second year of working life when the injurious effects of early labor upon already undeveloped bodies have had time to make themselves felt.

A "physical minimum" for children entering employment was provided in the standards adopted by the Children's Bureau Conferences held in Washington and other large cities in May and June, 1919.
This minimum declared that "A child shall not be allowed to go to work until he has had a physical physician or other medical officer especially appointed for that purpose by the agency charged with the enforcement of the law, and has been found to be of normal development for a child of his age and physically fit for the work at which he is to be employed." It provided also that "There shall be an annual physical examination of all working children who are under 18 years of age."

But what constitutes "normal development" for boys and girls of different ages, and what indicates that a child is "physically fit" for the employment which he is about to enter? Only through exact observation and measurements can it be demonstrated that a child is unfit for certain kinds of work, or that too early and too exacting labor is endangering his physical development. The standards to be applied constitute a vitally important part of the problem of child labor.

The committee appointed by the Children's Bureau will undertake to provide these standards. The committee consists of Dr. George F.
Barth, Director of Hygiene, City Health Department, Milwaukee; Wm. Chairman; Dr. Emma M. Appel, Employment Certificate Department, Chicago Board of Education; Dr. S. Josephine Baker, Chief, Bureau of Child Hygiene, Department of Health, New York City; Dr. C. Ward Crampton, Dean, Normal School of Physical Education, Battle Creek; Dr. D. L. Edsall, Dean, Harvard Medical School; Dr.
George W. Goler, Health Officer, Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. Harry Linen-thal, Director of Industrial Clinic, Massachusetts General Hospital; Dr.
Anna E. Rude, Director, Hygiene Division, U. S. Children's Bureau; Dr. Thomas D. Wood, Chairman of Health Problems and Education, Columbia University, New York City.
